Community Supports Providers Partner With CalOptima Health

Did you know that California added many new Medi-Cal benefits through a program called CalAIM?

CalOptima Health is now providing members with these social and supportive services, called Community Supports.

CalOptima Health believes that housing, food, healing, recovery, support and independence are all crucial to members' health and has committed to offering all 14 state-approved Community Supports described at right.

If you are already providing any these services to members, your agency may be eligible to receive reimbursement for providing them!
